Question	Response
1. I read in SGX website announcing the company’s investment in another company’s making of Covid-19 test kits which incidentally had Health Science Authority’s approval. Can kindly update us on the progress of this project so far?	We are carrying out due diligence exercise and will make the relevant announcement in compliance with Listing Manual on material progress.
2. Please provide an update on the progress achieved in the swab tests conducted by 90 more Q & M staff. How many Foreign Workers have Q & M team completed to date and how many more Q & M plan to do? Also, is Q & M compensated for the volunteering work?	More than 90 Q & M Dentists and staff have swabbed 14,000 foreign workers on a voluntary basis at more than 160 factory converted dormitories since 23 April 2020. We have stopped the voluntary swabbing on 17 May 2020 in preparation for resumption of dentistry work after the Circuit Breaker ended on 1 June 2020. As this is a voluntary exercise, there is no compensation for Q & M.
3. Please provide an update on the progress of the JVCo in the establishment of a surgical mask manufacturing company since Q & M’s announcement in Mar 2020. Understand that the surgical masks are now available in Singapore among the health care workers. As such please share the quantity that has been shipped to Singapore and what is the rate of production of these surgical masks per week?	We will make the relevant announcement in compliance with the Listing Manual on material progress on the propose investment for the establishment of a surgical mask manufacturing company.
4. In Dec 2019, Q & M unfolded its plans on AI technology’s future implementations and developments at the launch of their newest clinic at EkoCheras Mall, Kuala Lumpur. Please provide an update of the progress made to-date and share any road-map of Q & M roll-out to their Singapore clinics.	The AI-engineer power solutions in diagnosis and providing the most effective and suitable treatment plans for patients is progressing smoothly in accordance to plan. It is currently in pilot trial run in Q & M Malaysia clinics. We expect to roll out to Singapore clinics for pilot trial run in 2021.

Please also share any road-map of the	We are carrying on due diligence exercise and will make the relevant announcement in compliance with the Listing Manual on material progress.

steps ahead to achieve the desired outcome.
6. Among all the dental services offered by Q & M, how many percent belong to basic dental services that are allowed in Phase 1 CB and how many percent of the services allowed in Phase 2 CB?	During the Phase 1 of Circuit Breaker (CB), only non-elective, urgent and emergency dental treatment is allowed. During Phase 2 of CB, dentists are allowed to perform more dentistry services but should minimize aerosol generation. Services such as root canal treatments, fixing of dental crowns, fitting of retainers, skilling and polishing will be allowed under Phase 2 of the CB but dentists should schedule time in between patients to allow for complete disinfection of the clinic.
